It's Hard to Keep Cool

Editorial - BY BRUCE BIOSSAT To urge the contenders for national office to avoid extremes of campaign oratory may be to ask politicians not to be politicians. Nevertheless, such cautioning is an effort that sideline observers must undertake in the interest of promoting balance and reasonableness in our political life.

No one who has the faintest notion what it is like in the inner councils of a candidate's entourage can imagine that it is easy to resist the push toward extremes of utterance.

The candidates, especially when they are traveling about on a frantic schedule and toiling almost from sun-up to midnight, live in a kind of half-world which makes reality hard to cling to.

They have few moments of privacy when they can take real thought. They are bombarded with a thousand pressures from every side. "Don't say this here. . . .

Maj. Gen. Noble, Who Helped Win Fight Against Yellow Fever, Dies

ANNISTON, Ala. (U.P.) — Maj. Gen. Robert Noble, one of the doctors who stamped out yellow fever in the Panama Canal zone, died Tuesday night at the age of 85. He had been ill for several months. Noble, former assistant surgeon general who retired in 1925, died at the station hospital at Ft. Mc-Clellan. He had lived here since his retirement.

He was associated with Col. William Crawford Gorgas in experiments that wiped out yellow fever during the construction of the Panama Canal. He also was a member of a commission that studied the disease in Ecuador and South Afri-

Eight southern Illinois football players are listed among the 100 candidates for the University of Illinois freshman grid squad. The southern Illinois candidates include Lindell Lovellette, Eldorado; Stephen Bell, McLeansboro; Russ Martin, Carbondale; Larry McGreavey, Centralia; John Stelzer, Mt. Carmel; Joe Wendryhoski, West Frankfort, Ron Winter, Car-mi, and Leroy Young, Mt. Vernon.

Lovellette and Wendryhoski are among the 17 All-Staters from last year's high school group enrolling at the U. of I.

A look at the Carrier Mills high school basketball schedule shows that the Wildcats will open their season Saturday, Nov. 10, hosting Vienna in the CMCHS Homecoming Carrier Mills will play a 20-game schedule, 11 at home and 9 away, plus two tournaments. Carrier Mills will hold a four-team tourney Dec. 27-28 and participate in the Saline County tournament at Harrisburg Jan. 25-26.

During the St. Louis-at-Brooklyn series some Harrisburg baseball fans found themselves in the unusual position of pulling for a St. Louis victory. These fans, anti-Cardinal, also want the National league pennant to come to a western club and sacrificed their bitter anti-Cardinal feeling, hoping that Brooklyn would lose and thus give a boost to the chances of Milwaukee to cop the pennant.

Last spring, just before the opening of the major league baseball season Pat Gilley asked me to write down the way I thought the two league races would finish.
